

Web Comments 01.20.22 - 01.24.22

Submitted Time	Full Name	Subject	Message
01/20/2022 - 12:08	Nancy Meister	January 18	I find Commissioner Mehl's personal attack on Commissioner Learner to be in poor taste. I think he could have provided his comments on why he supported the final CD map without constantly implying that Commissioner Learner was lying.
01/20/2022 - 12:38	Nancy Meister	Chair's Comments	What happened to the sweet disposition?
01/20/2022 - 13:21	Nancy Meister	January 18 meeting	I am curious about how Commissioner Mehl and Chair Neuberg have so much time that they could go back through hours of discussion to pull exact comments by Commissioner Lerner. Given that the whole process is a learning one as more information is provided by experts and public input therefor comments from past may or may not still represent where a Commissioner is in his or her understanding of what the maps should look like. Discussion today were very personal and entirely unnecessary. Each should have just stated why they supported the maps and not attacked another Commissioners ideas/comments.
01/20/2022 - 17:05	Lynne Hudson	Contact US	When I read the public comments ending on 1.19.22, it seemed that the comment from William Bowlus-Root may have been incomplete. It occurred to me that it may have exceeded a character limit. If so, I would like to read the rest of his comment. Could you send it to me or give me his email address, or, if privacy concerns prevent that, send him a copy of this email so he can send me the complete comment if he is willing?
01/21/2022 - 08:05	Katherine Scott	Republican bias	Why didn't this commission stick with maps that provided more competitive districts instead of switching to a map that provides for more safe Republican districts? Specifically the new Congressional District 6? This appears to be gerrymandering directly at the request of Mr. Mehl. This commission's maps should be challenged as partisan in the courts.
01/21/2022 - 10:23	Nancy Meister	Final Vote	I appreciate that Chair Neuberg provided sort of an apology for her personal attack on Commissioner Lerner, but very disappointed at the lack of any such attempt by Commissioner Mehl. The January 18th meeting leaves a very bad impression of the character of some of those on the Commission.
01/21/2022 - 10:43	William Bowlus-Root	Maps in Commission Report are unreadable	In the draft version of the Commission Report, the maps showing the congressional (p194) and legislative (pp242-243) districts have garbled descriptions and legends and the legislative district maps don't show the district numbers. It also looks like the symbols for the major highways didn't render properly when the PDF file was generated. In their current forms, they're unusable and can't be used to understand the data in the various tables because you can't relate the data in the tables, which is by district number, to the districts that have no labels. I spotted these issues with a cursory review of the report. There are probably other issues like this as well. Hopefully this will all be corrected when the final version is proofread and checked for quality issues. William Bowlus-Root A very concerned citizen
01/23/2022 - 09:48	Victoria Kirkhope	Have a great day ahead	Did you know? With AI, you can write ebooks in minutes. https://youtu.be/MHZobDxdpuM
01/24/2022 - 16:15	Beth Hartman Ellis	Precinct	Hello, Would you please inform me where our new Precinct and District are in the new map? We live at [REDACTED] Phoenix, 85083. Thank you.